DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kirkpatrick (US 3,677,329).

3. As to claim 1, Kirkpatrick teaches an annular heat pipe that includes an inlet, an outlet, an enclosing wall defining a gases passageway between the inlet and outlet, at least a region of the enclosing wall being of a material that allows the passage of water vapor without allowing the passage of liquid water or respiratory gases, and a heating means located within the limb, the heating means comprising an elongate heating element (see figures 1 and 3).

4. As to claim 3, Kirkpatrick teaches an apparatus wherein the heating means lies freely in the limb to settle over at least some of its length at low points in the limb where condensed water vapor may collect (see figures 1 and 3).

5. As to claims 5 and 6, Kirkpatrick teaches an apparatus that includes an inner conduit having an inlet, outlet and enclosing wall; an outer conduit having a second inlet, outlet, the inner conduit located within the outer conduit, the inlet of the inner conduit and the second outlet of the outer conduit being located at a first end of the limb, and the outlet of the inner conduit and the second inlet of the outer conduit being located at a second end of the limb, and the heating means is located in a space between the inner conduit and the outer conduit (see figures 1 and 3).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2, 4 and 7-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
